SINGER APPOINTED TO HEAD INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS UNIT

MONTRÉAL / June 17, 1987 --- Former Concordia University Provost Martin Singer, an Associate Professor in the Department of History, has been named Director of Concordia's newly-formed Council for International Cooperation.

The Council, which reports to the Office of Academic Vice-Rector Francis Whyte, was established in early June to develop and co-ordinate Concordia's growing international activities.

A specialist in Chinese and Japanese History, Dr. Singer joined Concordia in 1972. The 40-year-old academic was educated at the University of Michigan (Ph.D. '77 and M.A. '70) and Hunter College of the City University of New York (B.A. '68).
